Resume Tips

Your resume is often the first impression hiring managers receive. Make sure it stands out by:

- Using a clean, professional format with consistent headings.
- Highlighting achievements with quantifiable metrics (e.g., "Increased table revenue by 15% in six months").
- Tailoring your experience to match the job description.
- Including relevant certifications (e.g., Casino Dealer License, Food Safety Certification).
- Proofreading for grammar, spelling, and formatting errors.

Interview Preparation

Interviewers at MGM Grand Detroit look for candidates who demonstrate a blend of technical skills and strong customer service orientation. Prepare by:

- Researching the casino's history, culture, and recent news.
- Practicing answers to common interview questions (e.g., "Describe a time you handled a difficult guest.").
- Preparing thoughtful questions about the role, team, and growth opportunities.
- Arriving on time, dressing professionally, and bringing multiple copies of your resume.
- Showing enthusiasm for both the casino's brand and the specific role.

What to Expect After Applying

After submission, the hiring team reviews applications over a 2 4 week period. If your profile matches the role's requirements, you may receive an invitation for a phone screening or an in person interview. Successful candidates will typically go through a multi stage process, including a skills assessment or role specific task.

Training & Development Programs

One of the hallmarks of MGM Grand Detroit is its commitment to employee growth. New hires receive a structured onboarding program that spans several weeks, covering everything from company policies to hands on training in their specific department.

Onboarding

During the first week, employees attend orientation sessions covering:

- Company history and values.
- Health and safety protocols.
- Employee benefits and payroll information.
- Introduction to the team and key stakeholders.

Mentorship & Coaching

Each new employee is paired with a mentor—a seasoned colleague who provides guidance, feedback, and support. This relationship helps accelerate learning and fosters a sense of belonging.

Professional Development

Beyond initial training, MGM Grand offers continuous learning opportunities, such as:
