1. Meet Mayor Harland: Start the game by visiting the Town Hall. Talk to Mayor Harland about the recent murders. He mentions the “white wolf” legend and hints that the town’s history might hold the key.
2. Investigate the Town Records: Use the evidence log to examine the town’s historical documents. Look for references to the white wolf and any previous incidents.
3. Collect the First Piece of Evidence: Find a torn piece of fabric in the mayor’s office. Add it to the evidence log.
4. Return to Nancy’s House: Use the evidence to deduce that the fabric is from a victim’s clothing. This leads you to the Old Mill.

Act 2: The Old Mill Mystery

1. Explore the Mill: Search for hidden compartments and old machinery. The mill’s basement holds a rusted key.
2. Unlock the Locked Door: Use the key to open a hidden door that leads to a storage room. Inside, you find a map of the forest with a marked “X.”
3. Talk to Randy: Bring the map to Randy at the Ranger’s Lodge. He confirms that the marked spot is near the old logging camp.
4. Collect a Piece of the Camp’s Log: Search the camp for a torn log entry that mentions a “wolf attack.” This clue suggests the white wolf may be real.

Act 3: The Hospital’s Dark Secret

1. Visit Dr. Stone: Talk to Dr. Stone in the hospital. She reveals that a patient’s death may have been foul play.
2. Search the Basement: Use the evidence log to search for a hidden room. Inside, you find a syringe with a strange chemical.
3. Analyze the Chemical: Use the lab equipment to determine that the chemical is a mild sedative, which could have been used to incapacitate victims.
4. Confront Dr. Stone: Use the evidence to confront Dr. Stone. She denies involvement but reveals that the chemical was stolen.

2. Set a Trap: Build a simple trap using items from the evidence log. This will capture a wolf or a human impersonator.
3. Observe the Capture: After setting the trap, wait for the wolf to appear. If it’s a real wolf, you’ll hear howls. If it’s a human, you’ll catch a suspect.
4. Collect the Wolf’s Mark: Use a camera to capture a photo of the wolf’s mark, which matches a mark found on a victim’s clothing.
